

WHAT DO PARENTS SAY?

"Education frequently takes place under guidance of others (parents). Resourceful skills are transmitted from parent to parent."

Margarita Chulde
Parent Center Volunteer

"What? When? Where? Who? Why? Which? How? Have a question that starts with any of these pronouns, visit the California High Parent Center and these great volunteers can help you get going in the right direction! Being involved with the development of this center has taught me so much about navigating the halls of Calhi and I can't wait to share this info and help others."

Linda Lawson
Parent Center Volunteer

"As parents get more involved and become more informed, their children become more likely to attend college."

Angelica De La Rosa
Parent Center Volunteer

WHAT IS THE PARENT CENTER?

Mission Statement:

To inspire leadership, confidence, and education for all parents and assist in increasing their child's academic and social success.

Why should I be involved in my child's education?

Studies have shown that students achieve higher levels of academic success when parents are involved in their children's education.

Involvement is crucial during the middle school and high school years when students' educational performance is most significant in determining their future.

Through our Parent Center, we can help guide you in your quest to support your child.
